Here's what you and your clients need to know about New York Paid Family Leave

Final regulations have been adopted, rates are set, and the New York Paid Family Leave will become a reality for New York state employees as of January 1, 2018.

But for brokers and their employer clients, the time to get ready for this new paid leave is now. As a New York Statutory Disability and Paid Family Leave administrator, Lincoln is committed to helping you navigate these new regulations.

What key facts do you need to know now?

How does the New York Paid Family Leave work?

Who is eligible, how are full- and part-time employees defined, and when will benefits begin?

Does this new leave impact other leave plans?

Can it be combined or coordinated with New York state disability?

What should your clients do now to begin preparations?

When should employers begin deducting premiums, and what do their employees need to know?

As the January 1, 2018 effective date approaches, Lincoln is getting ready to administer the New York Paid Family Leave. We will keep you up to date with all the information you and your clients will need to administer and implement this new benefit.

If you have any questions, please visit our Paid Family Leave page or contact your Lincoln representative.

In New York, insurance products (policy series GL111, GL3001) are issued by Lincoln Life & Annuity Company of New York, a Lincoln Financial Group® company. Limitations and exclusions apply.
